OLD SOLDIERS HOLD REUNION

MEMBERS OF CO. B, 43RD INDIANA VOLUNTEERS, MEET AT HOME OF ROBERT ALLEN, 3 MILES NORTH OF TOWN TODAY TO TALK OVER "WAR TIMES."

TWENTY COMRADES HERE

The fourteenth annual reunion of Co. B, 43rd Indiana Volunteers, a company recruited in Greencastle October 3, 1860, which served through the war, was Thursday, at the home of Robert Allen, 3 miles north of town. About twenty of the twenty-five surviving members of the company, which originally consisted of 110 men, were present, with their families to enjoy the day.

The first reunion of the company was held fourteen years ago at the Allen farm, and at that time it was agreed to hold the reunion there each year. This agreement has always been kept and the survivors of the company each year look forward to the meeting, virtually all of the surviving members being present each year.

The old comrades arrived at the farm at about 11 o'clock and at noon a bountiful dinner was served, by the wives of the soldiers. The afternoon was spent in interesting discussions of "war times." Among those who reached Greencastle on early morning cars to attend the reunion were Alex Scott, David Campbell, Ben Collins, and James A. Jackson, all of Indianapolis.

FOREST NOTES.

Switzerland has four cooperative associations for the growing and the marketing of forest products.

The U. S. forest service is using gasoline railway speeders for fire protection purposes. They follow up trains on steep grades where sparks thrown out by forced draft are likely to start fires along the right of way.

Forest officers have found that high power telescopes are not always satisfactory in fire-lookout work. In some localities heat vibrations in the air are so highly magnified by the glass that clearer vision can be had with the unaided eye.

At the national conservation congress to be held in Washington, November 18-20, the subject of forestry will be handled by a main committee, with sub-committees which will report on federal and state forest policies, forest taxation, fires, lumbering, planting, utilization, forest schools and scientific forest investigations.

Elk have been found in the Uinta national forest, Utah, for the first time in many years. Since they are not from shipments from the Jackson Hole country to neighboring forests, the state and federal officials are gratified at this apparent increase in big game, as the result of protection.

FINDS MONEY DRAWER TAKEN FROM HIS SAFE

The money box taken from the safe in the office of Dr. O. F. Overstreet Monday was found this morning by Dr. Overstreet, on a shelf in a closet in a rear room of his office. It had been put there by the robber after he had used a jimmy to pry it open and had taken out the money. The box was first pruned from the safe and then taken to the back office room and broken open. A hatchet, which was in the back room, probably was used in opening the money box.

There is little doubt now but that the robbery was committed by some expert robber. Several papers which were in the money drawer were not taken by the thief.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Farrow, who live north of the city, are visiting relatives in Crawfordsville.

MOOSERS WANT CITIZENS TICKET

FIRST CAUCUS OF PROGRESSIVES TO DISCUSS CITY CAMPAIGN HELD TUESDAY NIGHT—WANT TO FUSE WITH REPUBLICANS IN NOMINATING TICKET.

MEETING NOT HARMONIOUS

That the Progressive party do not want to nominate a city ticket but will attempt to fuse with the Republicans in placing a citizens' ticket in the field, was the conclusion of the first caucus of the Bull Moosers held in the office of Dr. Walter M. McGaughey Tuesday night.

The meeting was not publically announced, but the chosen few were given the tip and were present to discuss the city campaign plans. Those who were present were George Hanna, William H. Peck, Charley Reeves, A. J. Duff, James Hollick, C. C. Gautier, Ernest Cook, Jackson Boyd, Robert Hanna, Robert Hanrick, F. A. Hays, Rupert Bartley and Dr. W. M. McGaughey.

The plan of the Progressives is to submit to the Greencastle Republican organization, which will hold its first city election caucus tomorrow night, the proposition to eliminate party lines and nominate a Citizens ticket. Should the Republicans agree to this, then each party would select a committee of five to meet and agree upon a method of nominating a ticket. They further hope to get several Democrats to agree to the proposition.

Several of the Bull Moosers at the meeting Tuesday night were very strongly opposed to the proposition to fuse with the Republicans. They declared that if the Progressive party intended to retain the strength it had already gained, and keep up the party organization, that the thing to do is to nominate a city ticket. They strenuously objected to losing the identity of the party in the city election. Some were strongly opposed to the proposition that they left the meeting before any agreement had been reached. They said that they would not be a party to any such agreement. To destroy their organization and ally themselves with the Republicans, they said, would be suicide to the Progressive party.

The general census of opinion of those present at the meeting Tuesday night was that the Democratic party would elect its ticket this fall, unless something radical happens before this and election time.

Although some of the more enthusiastic "Fusionists" declared that some Democrats would agree to supporting a Citizens' ticket the older political heads, saw little hope of securing any aid from that source.

Whether the Republicans will agree to the proposition to be submitted by the Progressives is problematic. Today, several of the leaders said, they would not. They do not intend to join ranks with the Progressives, they say. If the Progressives want to join them in the support of a Republican ticket, all right. But they do not intend to submit to any Progressive trick.

The result of the Progressive's proposition for a Citizens' ticket is being eagerly awaited by the local politicians.

Ernest Renfro this morning disposed of his freak rooster to one of the shows of the carnival company exhibiting here this week. The rooster was nearly three feet high and stood erect. His body was placed on his legs in such a position that he walked around like a man. Renfro had the rooster at police headquarters last night where he exhibited him and had him crowd at his command. The rare bird brought the high figure of a dollar and a half.—Brazil Times.

Mrs. Charles Luetke, of Greencastle, was here on Monday to spend the day with Mrs. Marvin Bradenburg east College street.—Crawfordsville Journal.

"DRYS" WILL NOT DISMISS APPEAL

ATTORNEY THOMAS T. MOORE STATED THIS MORNING THAT MOTION OF "WETS" TO DISMISS ACTION IN CIRCUIT COURT WOULD BE FOUGHT OUT.

MAY ARGUE IT THIS WEEK

Although the "Drys" had intended dismissing the appeal to the circuit court from the decision of the county commissioners, in the local option election petition case, Thomas T. Moore, attorney for the "Drys" stated this morning that the appeal would stand and that the case would be argued before Judge James P. Hughes.

The only reason for the appeal from the commissioners by the "Drys" was to gain time. The "Drys" wanted the local option election delayed until fall, while had they not appealed from the decision of the commissioners the election would have been held the first of August.

Having gained their point in securing a delay by appealing to the circuit court, the "Drys" had determined to dismiss the appeal and allow the commissioners to set a time for the election. They believed that now, since the second ward had been made dry by remonstrance, that the "Wets" would not urge an election.

But Saturday attorneys for the "Wets" Allee, James & Allee, filed a motion in the circuit court asking that the appeal be dismissed. They gave four reasons for asking the dismissal of the appeal. They are:

1. That the order of the County Board of Commissioners is interlocutory and not a final judgment and that ended the proceedings of the Board of Commissioners.

2. That the commissioners have never made a final order in the case.

3. That the Board of Commissioners never appointed any election commissioners nor inspectors and judges.

4. And the Auditor of Putnam county never made out and filed a certificate record of said cause.

Since the "Wets" have filed this motion for dismissal, the "Drys" attorney says the appeal will be dismissed but that the case will be argued. Judge Hughes has not yet set a time for hearing the arguments but it is probable that the arguments will be made within the next week or ten days.

It is understood, that after the appeal case is decided the "Wets" will attack the redistricting ordinance passed by the council a short time ago, which ordinance places the business district of the town in the second ward. The second ward was made dry by remonstrance soon after the ordinance was passed.

City Schools Are Crowded.

The enrollment in the public schools greatly outnumbers that of last year. The enrollment in the high school last year was about two hundred and fifteen, and this year it has run to two hundred and seventeen, and will be swelled to two hundred and thirty within a few days.

The fifth and sixth grade rooms of all the ward schools are crowded. They average fifty-four pupils to the room. Seventy-two common school transfers have been issued from Greencastle township and fifty high school transfers from the same township.

The only way to reduce the crowded condition of the common schools is to build a new high school building. The present high school building could be used as a ward school to a great advantage. It would accommodate many more pupils than the third ward building on Hanns street. The ward districts could be arranged in such a manner that no one school would be crowded.

Beryl Matthews, of Richmond, Ind., formerly of this city, is spending a few days in the city.

Miss Mona McAllister returned today from Colorado and Utah, where she has been spending the summer.

WOULD INCREASE THE WATER RATES

GREENCASTLE COMPANY WILL APPEAL TO THE STATE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSIONER IN HOPES THAT SCHEDULE WILL BE INCREASED—SURRENDERS ITS CHARTER.

DOINGS OF THE COUNCIL

The Greencastle Water Works Company, which has been operating under its present franchise for six years, will attempt to raise its rates. This fact was established at the meeting of the city council Tuesday night, when the company surrendered its franchise.

The Water Works company hopes to prove to the Indiana Public Utilities Commission that the company is losing money in Greencastle, the rates it is receiving for water service not being adequate to earn for the company a fair profit on its investment.

The plan of the company is to go before the commission and ask that the rates be raised in Greencastle and if the commission is convinced that the rates here are too low they will order that they be increased. However, the company cannot increase its rates, unless ordered to do so by the Utilities Commission.

The Greencastle Water Works company in order to be able to submit the question to the commission, was forced to surrender its franchise which fixes the rates to be charged in Greencastle. When the franchise was granted the company by the city council several years ago, the company alleged that it was entitled to higher rates as it was not earning enough to pay a fair dividend on its investment. It now hopes to have the Utilities Commission increase the rates in Greencastle.

When the commission selects a time to hear the arguments of the Water Works company, Greencastle people may appear before it and present the city's side of the question. The commission is not obligated to raise the rates and the Water Works company might have to submit to a lowering of them should the commission find that the rates are too high.

The filing of the surrender of the franchise was the most important business of the council meeting Tuesday night. Councilman Neel was not present and Councilman Luetke did not arrive until after most of the business of the meeting had been transacted.

Joe Hare was granted a permit to build an 18 by 20 foot concrete addition to his store building at the corner of Bloomington and Broadway streets. S. F. Lockridge and W. W. Jones were elected to succeed themselves as members of the Forest Hill cemetery board of trustees.

Only one bid for the building of the alley which is in the rear of the buildings on the business section of east Washington street, was filed. This bid was submitted by James W. Kinzer, who specified that he would improve the alley by building a sewer and paving it with brick at the following process:

Brick pavement—$2.50 sq. yard.
Curbing—40c lineal foot.
12-inch sewer tile—62c a foot.
Catch basins—$25 each.

The property owners now have ten days in which to remonstrate against the using of brick in the improvement. If a valid remonstrance is not filed then the council can consider the bid and allow or reject it.

Jacob Etel, the florist was before the council and asked that a fire plug be placed near his home. The nearest fire plug is several blocks away. Because of this fire insurance is almost prohibitive in cost to him. As he is a citizen and pays city taxes, he believes he is entitled to better protection. The council agreed with him and the matter was referred to the city attorney and Public Safety Committee with power to act.

The Monon had a small wreck one mile south of Putnamville, Friday night about 12:30 o'clock. A freight train pulled in two while going at a high rate of speed. The air failed to set the brakes of the loose cars and when the engineer stopped the train the loose cars crashed into it. No one was hurt and very little damage was done.

NEGRO GIVEN A LIGHT SENTENCE

JAMES ANDREW JACKSON, WHO ATTEMPTED TO KILL DEPUTY SHERIFF HOWARD HARRIS, IS FINED $25 BY JURY—FOUND GUILTY OF ASSAULT.

FINDING A BIG SURPRISE

James Andrew Jackson, the negro without a home, who shot five times at Deputy Sheriff Howard Harris, on the morning of August 2, when the latter went to the woods, west of town, to ascertain what the negro was doing there, was found guilty of assault by the jury and was fined $25.

Jackson was sleeping in the pasture, just west of town rented by Fred Thomas, with a revolver in his hand when Thomas found him. He came to town and got the deputy sheriff to go with him to learn what the man was doing there.

When asked by Harris, what he was doing, the negro answered by beginning to shoot at him. Harris retaliated by returning the fire but neither was injured. The negro then ran leaving his shoes, hat and coat behind. A few days later, footsore and weary, he was arrested near Fern. The absence of any motive for shooting at the deputy was the thing which it was believed would cause the jury to give him severe punishment. The negro claims that he has no home. Local colored people raised money with which to secure colored attorneys from Indianapolis to defend the man. Trial of the case began Monday morning.

SCANT SUPPLY CAUSES HOG PRICE TO RISE

Fifteen-Cent to 20-Cent Increase, With $9.63 the Top—Choice Grade Cattle Steady.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 10.—With all the buyers active local hog prices netted another substantial increase, sales ranging from 15c to 20c higher than at the opening of the week. The supply was barely up to recent averages, about 5,500 being on hand. The bulk of the sales spread from $9.35 to $9.50. In the late trading shippers paid an extreme top of $9.60 for some fancy weights. This was 5c higher than the best mark from the packing interests. The offerings were promptly absorbed and the market closed strong, with a good clearance.

Best Cattle Steady.

The cattle market, with a fairly large run on hand was just about steady. The steer market, however, was slow in opening and prices were barely even with Monday. Best butcher cattle sold fully steady. There were a good many stockers in the day's receipts. Calves were steady to strong, quality being below average, with prices fully even with Monday. There was no change in the sheep and lamb market. Best sheep sold up to 4c, with most of the lambs bringing 6c to 6½c.

GIVES BREAKFAST IN HONOR OF HER GUEST

Mrs. R. L. O'Hair, Miss Mabel O'Hair and Miss Pearl O'Hair delightfully entertained a number of their friends Thursday morning at a o'clock breakfast in honor of Miss Ruth Baker and their house guests, Miss Edna Walker, of Princeton, and Mrs. William Shelton of Danville.

The table was decorated with fern centerpieces, astors and beautiful hand-painted place cards were at each guest's place. A three-course breakfast was tastefully served. Those present were: Mrs. William Shelton of Danville, Miss Edna Walker of Princeton, Miss Margaret Baker, Mrs. Lou Allen Baker, Miss Millicent Coss, Miss Nina Burnside, Mrs. R. G. McCutchan, Miss Ida Overstreet, Miss Hallie Landes, Mrs. Frank Bittles, Miss Helen and Miss Pearl O'Hair, Miss Mabel O'Hair and Mrs. R. L. O'Hair.

MOTORCYCLE AND AN AUTO COLLIDE

Their view of each other obstructed by a buggy, Fred Hillis, driving his automobile, and Walter Woodrum, the rural route mail carrier, who was riding on his motorcycle, collided at noon Tuesday at the corner of Walnut and Vine street. Mr. Woodrum was thrown from his machine and slightly injured. His motorcycle, which he used in carrying the mail, was wrecked.

The accident occurred, when Mr. Hillis driving west on Walnut street, turned north onto Vine street. Mr. Woodrum was riding south on Vine street. In order to dodge a buggy which was on the crossing, and which obstructed the view of each Mr. Hillis and Mr. Woodrum, Mr. Hillis ran his car into a tree in front of Dr. Tucker's residence. Woodrum, in avoiding the buggy, also turned in toward the curbing and his motorcycle crashed into the automobile. Mr. Hillis slightly damaged the front end of his car when he struck the tree.

The injuries to Mr. Woodrum consist of a badly bruised and cut face.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured other that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriskany, Pa. This is not at all unusual. An ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy. For sale by all dealers.

MISS BERNICE CRAIG TO STUDY IN BERLIN

A very enjoyable event occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Winter Craig, Saturday evening, Aug. 20th, when the Philathea class of Guilford College surprised their daughter, Miss Bernice, with a handkerchief shower. There were handkerchiefs galore from the dainty bits of linen elaborately hand-embroidered to handkerchiefs suitable for bad colds and homesickness.

Miss Craig, a young lady of rare talent, has been head of the music department of Guilford College for the past four years. On September 2 she will sail for Berlin where she will specialize in music.

The young ladies present were delightfully entertained by classical selections rendered by their hostess, followed by a luscious melon feast.

On departing the following young ladies wrote their names in a hand-painted autograph album, presented by the class: Misses Aniba and Pearl Ballinger, Ida Mills, Minnie Huffines, Nell Doak, Mabelle Crutchfield, Margaret Peele, Mamie Anderson, Mary E. White, Nellie Knight, Christine Frazier, Alice Smith, Margaret Davis, Mary Lambeth, Mildred Blackburne and Mrs. Mary E. Davis.—Greensboro, N. C. News, Sept. 2.

Surprise Birthday Dinner.

Mrs. Roy Neese, of Reelsville, surprised her husband with a dinner in honor of his birthday anniversary last Sunday. The event was a most pleasant one, a bounteous dinner, being a most enjoyable feature of the event. Among those present were:

Charles Hill, Mr. Mullenix, Oral Hutcheson, Mr. Miller, Roy Frazier, Willie Smith, George Brown, Wilbur Rogers, Mort Smith, Owen Ham, Earl Hutcheson, Clint Rogers, Arthur Roberts, Clyde Miller, Lora Ham, Morris Miller, Paul Miller, Forest White, Samuel Baysinger, Clyde Hutcheson, Richard Frazier, John White, Mr. Ransopher, Edward Rogers, Earl Ham, Bill Boon, Elsie Kegg, Mr. Gow, Joe Thomas, Ray Neese, Albert Butterdick, Mr. Neese, James Rogers, Roy Hutcheson, Chas. ## Mother of Eighteen Children.

"I am the mother of eighteen children and have the praise of doing more work than any young women in my town," writes Mrs. C. J. Martin, Boone Mill, Va. "I suffered for five years with stomach trouble and could not eat as much as biscuit without suffering. I have taken three bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and am now a well woman and weigh 168 pounds. I can eat anything I want to, and as much as I want and feel better than I have in ten years. I refer to any one in Boone Mill or vicinity and they will vouch for what I say." Chamberlain's Tablets are for sale by all dealers.

O'Neal-Hostetter Wedding.

Claude O'Neal, who gave his occupation as a teacher and his home as Putnam county, was granted license Saturday night to wed Miss Mabel Hostetter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hostetter, of Omaha, Neb. Mr. and Mrs. Hostetter formerly resided in Harrodsburg, this county.—Bloomington Telephone.

Cooler Weather is Here.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Cooler weather during the coming week is promised to the central part of the country by the weather bureau, but no prospect is held out for relief in the east and south, and even higher temperatures are indicated for the northwest. "The eastward movement of a northwestern high pressure area," the weekly bulletin said tonight, will be attended by lower temperatures early in the week over the central plains states, the Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys and the upper lake region, and probably by some moderation in the Ohio valley and the lower lake region.

Minutes Mean Dollars
IN TREATING ANIMALS

Doubtless you know the danger of delayed treatment of colic and other diseases. You also realize that a single minute's delay is often worse than no treatment at all. In other words, not to diagnose a disease accurately may prove fatal. Every owner should be able to recognize an ailment and give correct treatment at the first symptoms. Prompt action is the great secret of treating horses.

Minutes mean dollars. Of course proper treatment is always necessary. That is just how Humphrey's 500 page Veterinary Manual will prove so valuable to you. It is by F. Humphrey, M. D., V. M., and teaches how to diagnose and give proper treatment.

This book will save you hundreds of dollars and cost you nothing. It will be sent absolutely free on request to any farmer in order to introduce Humphrey's Veterinary Remedies. Remember, it is a splendid opportunity to obtain a veterinary treatise that you should have in your library. As a reference work you will find it invaluable. To have it in the time of need will be worth many dollars, whereas it will cost you but a postcard by writing for it now.

DISTRIBUTION OF CORPORATION
TAXABLES TO THE TOWNSHIPS.

The county auditor has completed his work of apportioning the Putnam county corporation taxables, to the several townships and towns. The state board of tax commissioners fixes the rate of taxation of the railroads, sleeping car companies, telephone companies, telegraph companies, oil line companies and other such corporations for each county. Then the auditor has to apportion the total amount among the townships according to the amount of corporation property in each township and town.

The total taxable property belonging to such corporations in the county amounts to $3,504,635.97.

This is distributed among the several towns and township as follows:

Jackson Tp.	$ 72,141.04
Franklin Tp.	319,869.55
Roachdale Town	17,360.55
Russell Tp.	199,164.68

Statement.

Editor of Herald:

I wish to call your attention to an error we made in writing the article about Otis Sanford, which you published last week. It said he was warned to stay away from the Hand home, but he was not. His sister was told to tell him to stay away but she never sent him the word. I would like for you to correct this and oblige, Andrew Sanford.

The following announcements have been received here: "Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mandeville announce the marriage of their daughter Lillian Estelle Barr to Mr. George Lorimer Johnson, Saturday September the sixth, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, Lake Bluff, Illinois." Mrs. Johnson formerly was a member of the DePauw School of Music faculty and has many friends in Greencastle. She taught here last year.

Rev. D. L. Vandament has about come to the conclusion that "troubles do not come singly" to him. Several weeks ago while riding his motorcycle after night without any light, he struck an obstruction, throwing him against the end of his handle bar and breaking two ribs. These had just about healed, when he was stricken with heart trouble twice and left in a very critical condition. He was slowly recovering, when on last Sunday, he took a sudden relapse, and is again in a serious condition.

John Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Riley of this city, a steam shovel engineer in railroad construction work, who with his wife has been visiting his parents here for ten days, has returned to his home in Pittsburg. Mrs. Riley will be here for several days. The work on which Mr. Riley has been engaged is completed and Mrs. Riley will not return home until he decides which of several offers of employment he will accept.

Ward Christie, son of P. R. Christie, returned from Toronto, Canada, Monday afternoon where he has been employed as civil engineer. He will leave today for Lafayette to enter Purdue university.

A HORSE DIES OF THE HYDROPHOBIA

A horse owned by J. L. Owens, a farmer living about five miles west of town, died Friday night of hydrophobia. The animal was bitten by a rabid dog seven weeks ago but did not show any signs of the disease until Friday morning. The horse died at 10 o'clock that night.

Dr. Lawton, the local veterinarian, was summoned by Mr. Owens and pronounced the case to be hydrophobia. The horse was bitten near Valparaiso one day while Mr. Owens was driving along the road. The dog got under the buggy and every time the horse took a step he would snap at its legs. The dog had to be shot before it could be gotten out from under the buggy.

COMPANY B REUNION ON COLLEGE CAMPUS NEXT YEAR

Next year the annual reunion of Company B, 43rd Indiana Volunteers, which has been held for the past 14 years at the home of R. W. Allen, 3 miles north of town, will be held on the west college campus of DePauw university. This was agreed at the meeting Thursday, when Dr. H. A. Goble, who attended the reunion, invited the veterans to hold their meeting on the college campus next year. The meeting held Thursday, as was told in The Herald on that day, was a most successful one. Beside the members of Co. B, several other soldiers were present to spend the day with their comrades.

Of the original 110 who enlisted in Co. B, only twenty-five now are alive. The roll call of members Thursday showed the following to be present: C. W. Crist, of Carbon; Smith Parker, of Greencastle; Jas. McCord, of Bainbridge; John Taylor, of Greencastle; W. H. Wyson, of Belmore; J. A. Jackson, of Indianapolis; J. Steele, of Bainbridge; L. A. Hazlett, of Russellville; D. W. Campbell, of Coatesville; Thomas Thompson, of Greencastle; John F. McGill, of Greencastle; B. F. Collins, of Indianapolis; Capt. A. M. Scott, of Indianapolis; and R. W. Allen, of Greencastle. Comrades O'Hair, Reising and Berry of other commands were present and enjoyed the reunion with Company B.

A CONCERT COURSE FOR GREENCASTLE

As the university officials have decided to abandon the usual lecture course this winter, Dean R. G. McCutchan of the DePauw School of Music has arranged to furnish the people of Greencastle and DePauw students an exceptionally good concert course, as a substitute for the usual lecture course.

Dean McCutchan stated this morning that already he had secured two numbers for the course, and that he had arranged for a complimentary concert to be given by the DePauw Choir and Orchestra, as the opening number.

The first concert will be given on Wednesday evening, Sept. 17, by the choir and orchestra. There will be no admittance charge and the people of Greencastle will be invited to attend. The choir and orchestra will give a program consisting of numbers given at the Bethany Park and Battle Ground meetings by the choir and orchestra this summer.

The second number, on the evening of Oct. 18, will be by Senor Antonio Pini-Carsi, basso of the New York Metropolitan Opera Company, and his company. He will give a one-act comic opera, "Il Marstodi Capella," and a program of operatic numbers. This is an especially talented company and no doubt will be a great treat to the Greencastle music lovers.

The Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir, consisting of nineteen young women, and conductor, will give a concert on the evening of December 16. Dean McCutchan is endeavoring to secure Miss Myrtle Elvyn, pianist, who appeared here during the Spring Festival, to give a concert during the winter and she probably will be heard as one of the numbers of the course.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

Nashville, again comes to the front with a snake story, one that is vouched for by Editor Alonzo Allison of the Democrat. Allison, a lover of exotics and he keeps ten at his home. Yesterday morning, while he was in the garden, he heard at the same time a cat meowing and the rattling of a snake. He investigated and found his cat in a fight with the snake. Before he could get a weapon the cat came to him, dragging the large snake. Allison says next summer he will keep twenty cats if they prove as good as the snake killer. Bloomington Telephone.

A Greencastle citizen last winter while digging parsnips, found a rattlesnake buried in the earth. The snake appeared to be dead but upon being taken into the warm house soon showed signs of life. It was fed and cared for and soon became a pet. During the winter it was kept in a box, in which a bed of straw had been arranged. One night during the winter, the owner of the snake was aroused by a tremendous commotion. Jumping from his bed he ran to the next room. A burglar had attempted to enter the house and the snake, to show its appreciation of the kindnesses of its benefactor, had coiled itself around the burglar as he entered the window. Then it stuck its tail out of the window and began to rattle for the police.

Friday night, Charles Burns, living six miles south of this city, and his cousin, Commodore Burns, of Indianapolis who has been visiting with him, heard their dog barking at the barn, says the Martinsville Reporter. They investigated, and discovered a big rattlesnake, which ran from them, but they chased it several yards and finally killed it. The snake was about five feet in length and had eight rattles and a button. About two hours later the dog began barking again and when they discovered another rattlesnake sung up between a board and a log. They captured it by means of a broom stick, and the snake showed fight. But they managed to cage it safely. It also had eight rattles and a button and was about four feet eight inches in length. It is supposed to be the mate to the one that was killed. Commodore Burns returned to Indianapolis today and took the rattlesnake with him to place it in the museum at the state house.

Mrs. Fred Cunningham and Mr. Paul Williams and daughter, Fred Louise, who have been visiting in Indianapolis for the past week, have returned home.

Miss Mary Denny will be an instructor in Stetson University, at DeLand, Florida, during the coming school year. Miss Denny will leave for Florida September 20.

John S. Crowder, a former DePauw student and well-known here, who has been in evangelistical work for several years, has been forced to give up that line of work because of illness, and has been appointed inspector of public buildings, at a salary of $2500 a year, by the Governor of Wisconsin.

T. C. Utterback and wife, of Cloverdale, attended the 13th annual reunion of the Utterback family, held at Garfield Park, Indianapolis, Friday. Nearly 100 members of the Utterback family were present and spent an enjoyable day. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: W. S. Vancleve, of Franklin, president; Bluford Utterback, of Bargersville, vice president and Wayne Utterback, of Bargersville, secretary-treasurer.

For Sixteen Years, Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Moretown, Vermont.—"I was troubled with pains and irregularities for sixteen years, as was thin, weak and nervous. When I would lie down I would seem as if I was going right down out of sight into some dark hole, and the window curtains and faces that would peek out at me, and when I was out of doors it would seem as if something was going to happen. My blood was poor, my circulation was so bad I would be like a dead person at times. I had female weakness. My abdomen was sore and I had awful pains."

"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash and they certainly did wonders for me. My weight increased and I am able to work hard every day."—Mrs. W. E. Sawyer, Lake View Farm, Moretown, Vermont.

Another Case.
Chicago, Iowa.—"I was troubled with female weakness, also with displacement. I had very severe and steady headaches, also pain in back and was very tired all the time. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am cured of these troubles. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. INA MILL-SLADGE, Clifton, Iowa.

CHICKEN THIEVES VISIT MAN ON FOX RIDGE

Again the chicken thieves are at work. Fourteen fine fat chickens were stolen from the James Moore hen house on Fox Ridge Friday night. Mr. Moore heard the thieves but they had gotten away before he could get out of his house and get to them. Thursday night some one attempted to steal chickens from Thomas Puyar who also lives on Fox Ridge, but he heard them and scared them away before they got his chickens.

Although few chicken thieves have been reported as operating in Greencastle this year, the farmers over the county have lost many hundreds of dollars because of the thieves. One farmer was in town the other day and reported that thieves had visited his hen houses and stolen 60 chickens. The thieves burned sulphur in the hen house to stupefy the chickens. Beside the sixty which were stolen, the farmer lost about thirty more, which were killed by the sulphur fumes.

Several residents of the city have reported the theft of chickens, fruits, garden hose and many smaller things of less value. Richard Hazlett had a dozen large frying chickens stolen from his coop Friday night and W. P. Ledbetter several bushels of peaches from a tree in his back yard. Many other small thefts have been reported.

Steve Vancleve Badly Injured.

Thrown in front of a mowing machine, when the team of horses he was driving started to run away, Steve Vancleve, formerly of this town but now living in Wessington, South Dakota, was badly cut and bruised but luckily escaped without serious injuries.

Vancleve, who was mowing hay on a farm near Wessington, had stopped work for the day, and had walked in front of the machine to unhitch the horses when they started to run. He was knocked down and dragged for twenty feet by the cycle bar, before his son Clarence, who was with him, could stop the team.

Although badly cut and bruised his injuries are not serious. His clothing was virtually cut off his body by the machine.

Horse Drops Dead.

A horse belonging to Greene Parker, a local contractor, dropped dead on the corner of College Avenue and Walnut street, Saturday afternoon about 4:10 o'clock. It was hitched to a gravel wagon with a mule and was going south on College Avenue when the animal fell. Its death was probably due to the intense heat. Mr. Parker valued the animal at $100.

Francis Shildmyer, who has spent the summer here with relatives, was accompanied to his home in Marion Sunday by Miss Lula Shildmyer.

Mrs. P. K. Buskirk of Bloomington, formerly of this city, returned home after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. James McD. Hays today.

A Mother's Story.

We take this matter upon ourselves in this time of trouble and sorrow to enlighten the people in behalf of Otis Standford, who but recently was shot down and taken away so suddenly from his poor old mother, sisters and brothers. Little did they think of his old mother who is in her 72nd year and how she would bear such a shock. This was not the first time the Hand family had mistreated Otis. He and his wife had not been married a year when her mother tried to get her to leave him and come back home but she would not leave him. About two years after this Otis had a good deal of stock and was doing well when Mr. Hand persuaded him to sell off his stock and move close to them where he was going to deed them four acres of ground and told Otis to go ahead and build him a house on the ground and Mrs. Sanford told her father they would not build a house until she had a deed which Mr. Hand would not give her after making the promise that he would, so there they were, with everything gone and a start to make again. In a few years later he had got another start in life and Mr. Hand got him to move on forty acres of his land. At one time Otis told his wife he was going to Lebanon to see his brother and while he was gone Mrs. Sanford's father and castle in jail. Mrs. Sanford did not believe it but to satisfy them she mother told her he was at Greencastle to Greencastle to find out and he was not there, but had gone to Lebanon as he had told her he was going. Otis and his wife met one another at Bainbridge on their return home and started home together. Mrs. Sanford had left the children with her mother while she came to Greencastle and when they went to get the children and their horse and buggy to go on home Mrs. Sanford's people did not want her and the children to go home and Mr. Hand came out to the buggy with a rifle in his hand with the intention of shooting Otis and Mrs. Hand was trying to take the children out of the buggy. Otis, seeing he was in danger, knocked Mr. Hand down and then told his wife if she would rather stay with her people than with him she might stay and she told him she would rather go with him so he took her and the children home.

Mrs. Hand swore out a warrant charging Otis with assault and battery with intent to kill and had him put in jail. She came to Greencastle quite often after pushing the case and trying to have him sent to prison. Mr. Boes was deputy sheriff at that time. He tried to get Mrs. Hand to withdraw the suit and told her Otis had always made a living for his family and he would again if he was given the chance, but it finally came to trial. Otis' wife related all this trouble to Mr. Sanford's mother. Otis did not tell her anything about it. The final separation of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford came the first of last December when she deserted him through the influence of her people. Otis had not seen his children since that time whom he loved dearly. He longed to see them but dared not go because he had been forbidden to come to the Hand home. He was driven to desperation and made up his mind to go and see his children at the risk of his life, which he did.

The papers have only published one side of this story and Otis' mother and brothers want the people to know how he has been mistreated and dragged down all during his married life and driven to do what he did. Otis had been working for his brother at Greencastle and Bainbridge and at one time when he was at Bainbridge he called up the Hand home and wanted to talk to his little girl and as soon as they learned who he was they would say no more to him or let him talk to her. Otis said Mrs. Hand was at his home last fall and remained awhile and Mrs. Sanford had seemed like another woman since.

We hope that people will read both sides of this story and then judge for themselves if all the blame could be laid on the one who is not here to defend himself.

I understand it is on record here all the trouble Otis and his wife ever had her people caused it.

DePauw Professor an Author.
A new text book which will be used in DePauw university this year, "The Art of Writing English," has lately been issued by the American Book Company. Its authors are Prof. N. Waring Barnes, professor of English Composition of DePauw, and Prof. Rollo W. Brown, professor of Rhetoric and Composition in Wabash College. The text book already has been adopted by several of the larger schools.

THE INTERURBAN LINEMEN GO OUT ON STRIKE MONDAY

Their demand for an increase in wages being refused by the traction officials, the electrical workers of the Indiana traction lines Monday morning went out on a strike.

So far only the linemen have gone out. The sub-station employees are still at work but the traction company, in order to be safe in case the sub-station men too should go out, have an extra man at each sub-station learning the work.

The demands of the linemen, who have been getting $2.75 a day, is that their pay be increased to $30 a month. They want an 8-hour day and pay for overtime. The union demands $100 a month for the linemen foreman.

The strike effects all of the T. H. L. & Eastern lines. The linemen's headquarters for the Indianapolis to Brazil division is in Greencastle. Frank Riebles, formerly of Plainfield, who took the place of the late foreman, Mr. Morzan, when the latter was electrocuted, Lawrence Graham and Frank Lane are the linemen on this division. They all went out Monday morning.

A GROVELAND BOY IS FINED $15 AND COSTS FOR PROVOKE

Lex Eggers, a Groveland boy, was before Judge James P. Hughes this morning, and fined $15 and costs, amounting in all to $20, for provoke. Ambrose Cassidy of the same town filed the charge. Eggers pleaded guilty to the charge and paid the fine.

The trouble occurred Saturday night. Eggers and Cassidy, it seems, have had trouble before. Saturday night Eggers met Cassidy as the latter was driving along the road, and accused him of leaving a bunch of switches at his door. Then he threatened to whip Cassidy and dared him to get out of his buggy. Cassidy retaliated by swearing out a warrant charging him with provoke. Sheriff Boes and Deputy Sheriff Harris drove to Groveland Sunday and arrested Eggers.

Wiest-Stroube Wedding.

Donald E. Wiest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wiest of Indianapolis was united in marriage to Jean L. Stroube, daughter of ex-Sheriff Frank M. Stroube of this city, by the Rev. Beard, pastor of the Christian church at the home of Rupert Bartley, on Indiana street Saturday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

The wedding was a quiet home affair, only the relatives and close friends of the young couple being present.

Mr. Wiest is auditor of the Prestolite Company of Indianapolis and the bride is one of the most popular young ladies of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiest left for Indianapolis this morning where they will occupy their furnished suite of rooms in the Oriental Flats.

The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Edward Wiest and Raymond Fry, of Indianapolis; Julius Morrins, of Danville, and Lillian Stroube, of Racine.

Colored Wedding Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jones announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Pearl Jones to George Payne of Greencastle, the nuptial affair occurring last Wednesday evening at 8:20 o'clock at the home of Rev. John Cox on North Vandalla street. Mr. and Mrs. Payne will reside in this city.—Brazil Times.

"Babe" Best in the League.

According to the sporting editor of the Indianapolis Star, "Babe" Charlie Conklin, the Greencastle barber-baseball player-umpire, is the best umpire in the Federal League. "Babe" has been umpiring in the league all season and his ability as an umpire has been favorably commented on during the entire season. Conklin formerly was a baseball player, himself, and knows something about the game. The Indianapolis Star sporting editor speaks right out and says Conklin is the best in the league.

ROCKVILLE PRISONER ESCAPES; FORFEITS LIBERTY FOR DRINK

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Sept. 6.—William Chumley, a check forger, who escaped here late last night from Sheriff Edward Nicholas of Rockville, Parke county, while en route to the State Prison, was captured tonight by the local police. As Sheriff Nicholas had returned to Rockville with his commitment, Chumley is held in the city jail.

Chumley entered a saloon tonight on a street that is within three blocks of the prison and got a drink. He was hatless, having lost his cap in the flight from the sheriff. The bartender, who had read the man's description in the papers, went to the telephone and notified the police. An auto patrol arrived before Chumley had left the saloon. He said that he had spent the day in a woods west of the city and that he had come into town to take an interurban car for South Bend.

Sheriff Nicholas came to this city by way of South Bend, where he removed the handcuffs to let the prisoner eat lunch and failed to put them on again. While they were going to a street car Chumley darted down an alley and escaped. He was recently sentenced at Rockville to serve from two to fourteen years.

REV. AND MRS. TILLOTSON TO BE IN GOVERNOR'S PARTY

Governor Ralston last night announced the names of the Indiana persons who will accompany them to Put-in-Bay, O., where he will speak at a banquet in connection with the Perry celebration Wednesday evening. Those in the party will be Mrs. Ralston, Senator and Mrs. Charles B. Clarke of Indianapolis, the Rev. and Mrs. Demetrius Tillotson of Greencastle, Bert Winters of the state board of accounts, Judge E. W. Felt and Milton B. Hotel of the Indiana Appellate Court, Judge Charles E. Cox of the Supreme Court and Charles A. Greathouse, state superintendent of public instruction. The party will depart in a special car over the Big Four at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning.—Indianapolis Star

The Shriner Picnic.

The Shriners of Putnam county held a picnic at the beautiful residence of Charles Carver eleven miles north of the city, Sunday.

Many Greencastle people made the trip in automobiles and those who went to Bainbridge on the Monon were furnished conveyances to the Carver residence.

Many people from outside counties were the guests of the local association. The attendance was estimated at about eighty-five.

A large table about sixty feet long was erected in the front yard and a bountiful chicken dinner was served. Every imaginable kind of food and delicacy was served on the huge table.

An attractive feature of the meeting was the fine banner painted by Mrs. Carver, measuring six feet long and four feet wide, which was suspended across the driveway. The banner depicted a Shriner emblem, painted in oil. The meeting was thoroughly enjoyed and will be remembered by all present. The Shriners take this opportunity to express their appreciation of the work and expense of Mr. and Mrs. Carver. Their efforts made the picnic a success and afforded a good time for everyone present. Those present were: Dr. and Mrs. L. T. Zaring, Henry E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Broadstreet, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bachelder, Chas. Hughes, James Houck, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carver, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Fred Ford, of Bainbridge, who was arrested and sent to jail to await trial for bootlegging and visiting a gambling house, decided Saturday that the best thing he could do was to plead guilty. Judge Hughes allowed him that privilege and fined him $75, which Ford paid. Ford admitted that he sold a half pint of whiskey on July 4. The second charge, that of visiting a gambling house, was dismissed after Ford had pleaded guilty to the former.

James E. McDonald, editor of the Ligonier Banner, is dead. For more than thirty years he was one of the strong editors of Indiana and of the type of men that have made editorial work an honorable profession. He conducted his newspaper on principle and spoke plainly and forcefully his views on public questions. Such men as he always leave their impress on a community and the community is better for having an editor of this character.

News comes from Washington that the government is after the armor plate combine. This is not the first time the federal authorities have played at that game, as every administration for the last twenty years has tried to break the combine. One administration went so far as to build an armor plate factory, but it was not a success. It is apparent that there is a big rake-off in furnishing armor plate for battleships, but nothing has ever been accomplished in the matter. It is to be hoped that the Navy Department and the Department of Justice will have better luck than their predecessors.

LONG SENTENCE SHORTER.

Real Paradox in a Slip of Justice in Chester County.

West Chester, Pa.—William Gibson, who had been convicted on a charge of carrying concealed deadly weapons and threatening women in Pocopson township, was sentenced by Judge Hemphill to serve one year in jail from the date he was arrested.

By some mistake the sentence was recorded that Gibson was to serve eight months from date of conviction. Under the rules, a prisoner serving one year is allowed commutation of two months for good behavior; but no time is allowed off on the shorter term.

When Gibson learned of the mistake in the record he directed his counsel to have the longer sentence entered in his case.

On petition to the Court the records will be corrected and Gibson will be liberated in a short time, whereas under the shorter sentence he would not get out of jail until quite some time afterward.

"Why does Pippus look so bad?" "He says his life has been a series of disappointments." "Indeed?" "Yes. At a very early age he cried for the moon, and he's been wanting something he couldn't get ever since."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

COMING TO

GREENCASTLE

United Doctors Specialist

WILL BE AT THE

COMMERCIAL HOTEL

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17TH

ONE DAY ONLY

Hours 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Remarkable Success of These Talented Physicians in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases.

Offer Their Services Free of Charge

The United Doctors, licensed by the State of Indiana for the treatment of deformities and all nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this visit, consultation, examination and advice free, making no charge whatever except the actual cost of treatment for the purpose of proving that they have at last discovered a system and method of treatments that are reasonably sure and certain in their results.

These doctors are among America's leading stomach and nerve specialists, and are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases of the blood, liver, stomach, intestines, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, kidneys or bladder, rheumatism, sciatica, diabetes, bed-wetting, tape worm, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long standing, deep seated chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of other physicians, should not fail to call. Deafness has often been cured in sixty days.

According to their system no more operation for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors, goiter, piles, etc. By their method these cases uncomplicated are treated without operation or hypodermic injection. They were among the first in America to earn the name of "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with the knife, with blood and with pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

If you have kidney or bladder troubles bring a two ounce bottle of your urine for chemical analysis and microscopic examination.

Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment may be, no matter what you have been told, or the experience you have had with other physicians, settle it forever in your mind. If your case is incurable they will tell you so. Consult them upon their visit. It costs you nothing.

Remember this free offer is for this visit only.

Married ladies must come with their husbands and minors with their parents.

THE

"Are you alone, mother?"

"Yes, my boy, come in," and Mrs. Raymond beamed with pride as her stalwart boy entered her sitting room.

He went straight to her and sat on the ottoman at her feet, as he had often done when he had come to her with childhood petty troubles. The mother drew his head down on her lap, smoothing his hair with a gentle hand.

"What is troubling you, Richard? Can I help you?"

"I don't know, mother. I hardly know how to begin to tell you." He paused a moment then went on. "There is a girl, mother, a little brown-eyed, brown-haired, soft-voiced girl, and I love her."

"Yes, Richard?"

"She is of good family, but, oh! so poor! She thinks I am but a poverty stricken mechanic, and loves me because of it. I am going to marry her."

"You had best tell your father."

"I have and he informed me I was crazy. He had arranged a marriage for me with Miss Lincoln, so that our joint fortunes would enable me to further my railroad interests. I told him he might be general manager of the concern he owned and which employed me, but he was not director of my heart. That I would marry Anna and if he disowned me, I had skill enough as a mechanic to support her."

"Richard!"

"Mother, I love her! and so will you when you see her. I do not want to antagonize father, but I will not give in to his will."

"I will try to win him over, for I know you would select none but a worthy girl to be your wife."

"Thank you. I know you will not regret it." He kissed her tenderly, and as he walked out of the room his mother watched, with tear dimmed eyes, till he was out of sight, then turned to the task set before her.

Her husband sat in his study, the papers scattered on his desk unheeded, his brown drawn into a frown as he gazed into space. The soft rustle of his wife's gown broke his meditation.

"That young fool," he began, testily, "spilling his chances because a baby face has infatuated him. Ignoring my wishes and actually ruining his entire life."

"Come, William, I have ordered the carriage and we can talk it over as we drive."

He followed her passively enough to the waiting carriage. He was surprised to find it the simplest in his stable.

"I wished to drive myself," explained his wife.

So engrossed was he in dilating upon the enormity of his son's foolishness, that he did not notice where his wife was driving to, until they turned into a pretty country lane.

"This road seems familiar," he remarked, then sat up straight as his wife stopped in front of a tiny house set back from the street. "Why, this is the house we lived in when we were first married."

He followed her down the lilac bordered walk into the house.

"Madge, it looks just as it did the way we left it. What does it mean? How is it you have the keys?"

"Do you remember that first check you gave me?"

"Yes, to buy jewels with."

"William, this was the jewel I bought." With a sudden change of humor she laughed merrily. "William, let us stay here for tea, and I will cook it myself. You go down and carry up some wood. Here, hang your coat on its old hook. It will seem like old times to see you in your shirt sleeves."

"Madge," he called to her, eagerly, "my old work table is still down there. Do you remember how pleased we were were the day I finished it?"

"Yes, indeed I do, Billy," using unconsciously the name the dignified William had long ago replaced.

When she placed the dainty, simple meal on the table Mr. Raymond drew up his chair with a sigh of satisfaction.

"I can't remember a meal I have enjoyed as much as this in a great many years; not since we left the little house. We were happy those days. Madge. More happy than we have been since. You look just as you did then, except your hair is gray. I well remember how proud I was of my pretty bride and the tiny home my $2 a day was supporting. Here, Madge, dear, let me dry those dishes."

Towel in hand, he painstakingly dried each dish, and as he set the last cup in the closet slipped his arms about his wife and stole a kiss, just as he had done in the first happy days of their married life.

He held her close, realizing for the first time in many years, how dear she was to him.

"Billy dear, let our boy taste of the joys we shared in that almost forgotten past. He loves a girl, who must be worthy of that love, just as you loved me. You would brook no interference, and you must not blame him for not wishing to obey your demand. Let our love and happiness in the days we were poor lead for him now." Her voice was trembling with eagerness, her eyes reflecting the great love she bore these two men.

"Come, Madge, let us go home and wish our boy godspeed."

As she locked the door she was tempted to drop the little house a courtesy and whisper, "thank you."—EMMA H. SCHLICHTING.

The trial of Robert Frazier, arrested Saturday on a charge of assault, sworn out by his wife, will be before Judge Frank, September 16. Frazier gave a bond of $100 for his appearance for trial. Mary Frazier, his wife, charged that he struck her and she filed the assault charges against him. Charles Pitts, brother of Mrs. Frazier, then filed charges of provocation against him.

Ed Nance, proprietor of the Maple Lane Creamery, is about to purchase the Greendale Creamery, which is in financial straits and about to be sold—Brazil News.

Raymond Rightsell, of Reelsville, who has been employed in the government weather station at Terre Haute, has returned to his work after a few weeks' vacation.

Paul and Harrison Eiteljorge, sons of Albert Eiteljorge, of Indianapolis, have returned home after spending a few weeks here with W. H. Eiteljorge and Charles Eiteljorge.

John Brothers, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Brothers on south Locust street, fell Sunday afternoon and broke his collar bone. The youngster was running down the pavement in front of his home when he tripped and fell heavily to the ground. He will be able to attend school in a few days.

Admonishing their victims not to light a fire in the stove, which had been polished with a new kind of stove polish, for two hours, so that the polish would have time to dry, proved to be the getaway "stall" of two smooth peddlers, who visited Washington township last week and sold a lot of stove polish. The peddlers, a man and a woman, claimed that the polish was the greatest ever and their city ways and oily tongues sold several pints of the polish at 50 cents a pint. Those who bought it were warned not to light a fire for two hours. This gave the peddlers time to get away and when the fires were lighted. Goodness me, that polish disappeared much faster than it was put on.

More than 8,000 persons attended the nineteenth annual meeting of Red Men of the Wabash Valley district at Delphi Wednesday. Special trains from Sheridan, Frankfort, Noblesville, Kirklint, Monticello, Rensselaer and other points arrived with the happy Indians. Lafayette, Logansport and Peru swarmed in via traction lines, and large delegations came in automobiles. Dakota Tribe No. 2, of Frankfort, pulled off an Indian pow-wow in full costume in the court house yard. A baseball game for the benefit of the visitors resulted in victory for the Logansport Ottos, who defeated the comers 9 to 0. Monticello was awarded the meeting for next year.

The second annual reunion of the King family was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. King near Reelsville. Besides those living in this city and county members were in attendance from Indianapolis, Coatesville, Clayton and Chrisman, Ill. A bountiful dinner was served about seventy-five persons being seated at the long table under the trees. The day was spent in a quiet way and was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Hopkins, president of the Board of Health, Los Angeles, whose wife is a former Greendale woman stating that Dr. and Mrs. Hopkins intend to visit Greendale on their return from Chattanooga, where they go to attend the G. A. R. encampment. They will be here about the last of the month.

Charles Rice, day clerk at the Commercial Hotel, has returned from London, O., where he has been on a two weeks' vacation.

Ralph Sears will move from the Albert Eiteljorge place northwest of town to a farm belonging to Alec Lockridge west of this city.

Schuyler Crawford, of Wichita, Kan., has returned home after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kelley and family.

Mrs. John James and daughter Kathleen have returned from Indianapolis after a short visit with relatives.

THE MEMORANDUM HABIT.

Absent-Minded Husband Made Careful Notes of His Wife's Admonitions.

There is a certain absent-minded man of Lowell, Mass., who never leaves home, even for the briefest stay, that he is not duly admonished by his wife as to many things he must not forget to do.

"Now, James," said she, on one such occasion, "do please remember to wear your tie should you be called on to wear evening dress at Aunt Mary's. You mortified the whole family greatly the last time you went, when Cousin Susan was married."

"I'll make a note of it," was the good-natured response of the forgetful one.

"Also," continued the wife, "remember that Aunt Mary's brother, Tom, is a sensitive point with all of them. Don't mention him."

"I'll put that down, too."

"Then, too, dear—do be careful about getting in draughts. You got an awful cold the last time."

"I'll try to remember," returned the husband.

Whereupon the wife imprinted a farewell kiss upon his lips, and with a suspicious catch in her voice added:

"I hope, dear, that you'll think of me every day while you're gone."

"Yes, dear, I will," responded hubby, absently, his mind on the four o'clock train. "I'll make a memorandum of it."—The Tradesman.

A WINNING GRAFT.

Mrs. Sands—Why don't you go to work?

Beggar—Please, mum, I made a solemn vow twenty years ago that I'd never do another stroke of work till women was paid the same wages as men! (Got a trifle.)

A Latin Tragedy.

He was a British workingman, and he had so many children that he used to call the roll before Sunday's dinner, to make sure they were all there.

"Erbert!" he cried, as his wife brought on the steaming joint.

"Er, pa!"

"Orace!"

"Er, pa!"

"Ezekiah!"

"Er, pa!"

"Enry!"

"Enry, who had just reached the seventh standard, decided to show off."

"Adsum!" he bawled.

For a few moments father regarded him with baleful eyes.

"Oh, you've 'ad some, 'ave yer?" he growled at last. "Well, you jist git away, then, an' make room for them as ain't!"—Answers.

Sincerest Flattery.

At the dinner of a literary club in Chicago two minor poets were heard in conversation.

"Harold," said the one, "I've just seen your triquet in the Spread Eagle Magazine."

"Ah!" exclaimed the other, a pleased expression coming into his face, and with the air of a man preparing himself against a burst of praise.

"Yes," continued the second poet; "and do you know, I heard rather a neat little compliment passed on it by a young lady of my acquaintance."

Harold seemed still more pleased. "May I ask what she said?" he queried.

Whereupon the first minor poet gurgled. "Why," said he, "she wanted to know whether I had written it."—Lippincott's.

Golf Defined.

On the terrace of a country club, overlooking a green dotted with sheep, a group of non-golfers were taking tea.

A male non-golfer, who took his tea through a straw, said thoughtfully:

"Golf might be defined as billiards gone to grass."

"Spreen on the green, I'd call it," said a female non-golfer.

"Or the last flicker of the dying fire of athletics," sneered a young football player.

"The misuse of land and language," suggested a tennis champion.

"No, no, you're all wrong," said a famous angler. "Golf is simply a game wherein the ball lies badly and the player well."—Louisville Times.

SERVED THEM RIGHT.

Three Captains, Said Wentworth to the Beggars, Would Wreck Any Ship.

Prof. Thomas Nixon Carter of Harvard was talking about Socialism.

"Socialism is no world panacea," he said, "but in the future it is to be reckoned with. Socialism will, in the future protect the poor against injustice and hypocrisy. It will expose fraud. Yes, Socialism, like old Higgins Wentworth, will bring out the truth."

"Higgins Wentworth was hoeing one April morning when three rough-looking men climbed the fence and crossed the field to him. They had just been shipwrecked, they said, on the brig Maria. They had lost even their clothes. Would Higgins help them?"

"Higgins Wentworth looked closely into the sailors' faces, for he knew the ways of men. Then he said:

"You, the bow-legged one, go stand twenty yards to the right, and I'll get ye to help me a minutes with the seedin'." You, baldy there, you stand twenty yards to the left."

"The two men complied; and then Higgins Wentworth said quietly to the man who remained.

"What did you say your captain's name was?"

"Williams, Capt. Williams," was the reply.

"The old farmer sauntered to the man off on the right.

"What was your captain's name?" he asked.

"Everett, sir," the man answered.

"Higgins Wentworth crossed the field to the third man.

"What was your captain's name?"

"The name was Capt. Jones."

"Higgins Wentworth leaned on his hoe and gathered the three men about him.

"A fine lot of sailors you are," he snorted, "to go to sea in a ship with three captains! No wonder you were wrecked. It served you right."—Washington Star.

JUST IN TIME.

Agent—Anything I can do for you, ma'am?

Ma—Yes, ye can scratch me back fer me; I can't reach.

Lacked Length of Legs.

A large and pompous person wearing a high hat, a long coat, yellow spats and a congenial sneer, for several days made himself obnoxious around a Washington hotel a bit ago.

He announced he was from New York, nagged the bellboys, jawed the clerks, cussed the service, roared at the food, complained about his room and the elevator and the telephones and the bar, and everything else.

One afternoon he walked over to the porter and said: "Here, you, I'm going to quit this town and go back to New York where I can get some decent service. I want you to buy me two seats in a parlor car on the 4 o'clock New York train. Get me two seats now, and meet me at the station with the tickets. I want one chair to sit in and one to put my feet in."

The seats were delivered at the train just before it pulled out. One of the seats was in car No. 3 and the other was located in car No. 4.—Cleveland Leader.

Too Much for the Bird.

A trained ostrich recently disconcerted its exhibitor at a music hall by continually endeavoring to break away from all restraint and to climb over the footlights into the orchestra.

The widely-advertised act came to a sudden end, and the professor emerged from behind the curtain and apologized for the actions of his pet in about these words:

"Ladies and gentlemen—Hi ham very sorry to disappoint you this evening. We are compelled to cease our hengeagement until the management hengeages a new horchestra leader.

"The one at present employed 'ere 'as no 'air on top of 'is 'ead, and my bird takes it for a hegg."—Detroit News-Tribune.

Sold It on the Spot.

"I want a hammock that will not break down," said the fair maid, addressing the floorwalker of the department store.

"I'm sorry, miss," he rejoined, "but we haven't any in stock that we could guarantee in your case."

"What do you mean by my case?" asked the young lady.

"Just this," answered the party of the floorwalking part: "If you were a lovely girl we could guarantee any hammock you might select."—Chicago News.

Strictly Legal.

"What is a young man to do when his attention has been arrested by a pretty girl?"

"Why, carry his case to court, of course."—Red Hen.

NOTICE

Petition to Improve Highway

Notice is hereby given by the undersigned Auditor of Putnam County, Indiana, that there has been filed in his office a petition by Charles Carver et al, for the improvement of a certain highway in Monroe township, said county, and that said petition is set for hearing before the Board of Commissioners of said County, on Monday, the 6th day of October, 1913, the same being the first day of the October Term, 1913, of said board.

Which petition is in the following words and figures, to-wit:

State of Indiana, Putnam County, SS: Putnam Commissioners Court.

To the Honorable Board of Commissioners of said County and State:

We, the undersigned, respectfully represent to your honorable body that we and each of us are free holders and voters in Putnam County Indiana, and we ask that you take the proper, legal and lawful procedure to improve the following public highway situate in Monroe Township and described as follows: Beginning at a point in the east line of the north-east quarter of Section 12, Township 15 north of Range 4 west, said point being on the line dividing Monroe and Floyd townships, thence west along and on the old road bed of the Danville and Rockville road to a point in the north-west corner of Section 10 Township 15 North of Range 4 West, a total distance of three miles.

And your petitioners ask that said public highway above described be improved by straightening, draining and paving with macadam from and between said terminal points and we further show that said road connects with a free gravel road at the beginning and terminus.

We ask that said improvement be ordered without submitting the same to an election of the voters of said township as said highway to be improved is less than three miles long.

We recommend that said highway be forty feet wide, that the macadam be fifteen feet wide and fourteen inches deep in the center and tapering to six inches on each side.

Respectfully submitted,

Chas. Carver, M. T. Darnall, E. C. Darnall, A. C. Frakes, A. Allen, Hans Anderson, B. L. Brown, Sam Miller, W. D. Conn, R. W. Matthews, Jerry H. Steele, J. T. Brock, H. O. Batman, T. J. ## The Preliminary Institute Held.

The teachers of the Greencastle, Warren, Madison, Washington and Marion township schools met Thursday in the offices of County Superintendent L. G. Wright to hold the preliminary teachers' institute of the school year.

All of the teachers of the five townships were present and a most entertaining and instructive program was heard. Superintendent Wright discussed the importance of teachers outlining their work for at least a week in advance. The discussion was most instructive and beneficial to the teachers.

"Relation of the Township Trustees to Teachers and Schools" was discussed by Otto Rector, trustee of Marion township. Mrs. Rupert Bartley had as her subject, "Every Day Problems in Teaching." Frank Wallace was on the program for a discussion of "Ellwood's Sociology and Modern Social Problems." The opening exercises of the institute were conducted by Miss Myra Parks.

Victor Utterback and Miss Gertrude Hunt, of Terre Haute, will be the guest of Miss Bonnie Hurst of this week and next.

SEEK FEDERAL AID IN ROAD BUILDING

Congress is now considering the question of Federal aid for the building of good roads. Manufacturers of automobiles have been "boosting" a "Coast-to-Coast" trunk line or boulevard. This idea does not seem to be in favor with Congress. Members having in charge this matter want to distribute the benefits more generally, than would be derived from a trunk line from coast to coast. They think that aid should be given for the maintenance of roads on the rural routes.

Henry A. Barnhart, Representative from Indiana, explains the sentiment of the Roads Committee in the following interview:

"The sentiment of the committee is toward legislation that will be of the widest possible benefit to the farthest communities of the United States. Various ideas as to how Federal aid may be extended in improving highways have been proposed by the members of the committee but the sentiment in the committee is for one definite plan.

"From time to time suggestions are made to the effect that it would be a grand thing if the Government would construct a magnificent coast-to-coast highway. It is pointed out that such a trunk line, traversing the continent, would be an achievement in which the whole nation might take pride.

Given No Countenance.

"Such a plan, however, is given no countenance by the roads committee. We do not believe that it would be right to take out of the Federal treasury money to construct a great road that would be paradise for automobilists, but which would be of comparatively small benefit to the masses of the people who have to pay the taxes.

The plan upon which we have tacitly agreed is this: We propose that whenever a local community improves with a good stone road bed constructed according to plans approved by the Department of Agriculture, any road over which the rural mail is delivered, there shall be paid thereafter, out of the United States treasury, the sum of $25 per mile per annum to maintain that road.

"If the road is properly constructed of gravel, the Federal treasury to pay $20 annually to maintain it, or dirt construction, according to authorized specifications, the allowance will be $15 per annum per mile.

The Chief Burden.

"Everybody knows that the chief burden of improved roads is maintenance, and this plan would take that burden off of local communities as the allowances stated are considered ample to cover all the cost of maintenance.

"The committee feels that this plan of extending aid in road building is immeasurably to be preferred to the other plan which proposes the construction of trunk highways connecting various sections of the country and traversing the continent.

"Our plan would diffuse the benefits of Federal aid into all parts of the country, for the rural mail service now extends everywhere while the other plan would be a bonanza for a special class, but to the end of securing the greatest benefit for the greatest number of citizens."

The committee expects to have a bill ready for introduction early in the coming regular session of Congress in December and Mr. Barnhart and other members are confident it will pass during the winter.

BOY IS FINED $100

BY JUDGE HUGHES

Otis English, a young man who lives near Winchester, was before Judge Hughes last Thursday charged with assault and battery on Ruth Riddle, age 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Riddle, who live near Groveland. Upon a plea of guilty, the boy was fined $100 and sentenced to three months in jail. The jail sentence, however, was suspended. The young man was arrested Wednesday night by Sheriff Theodore Boes and Deputy Sheriff Howard Harris, who drove to Groveland after 1 o'clock to answer to a telephone summons to go there at once to arrest a man. The person who telephoned would not give any details over the phone.

On Thursday the Riddle girl and her parents came to town and swore out a warrant charging the boy with assault and battery. They allege that the boy asked the girl to let him take her home from the Old Baptist meeting, and that when they arrived home the boy attacked her. The case was given an immediate hearing and the boy upon his plea of guilty was fined. The fine was paid.

Three Eclipses in Two Months.

Within the next two months there will be three eclipses, two being partial eclipses of the sun and one total eclipse of the moon.

On August 31st there will be a partial eclipse of the sun. However, it will be of such short duration that this point that it will attract very little attention. On September 15th there will be a total eclipse of the moon visible in all parts of the United States and will be a sight seldom witnessed in a century. On September 29th there will be a partial eclipse of the sun, visible in this locality. This gives us two eclipses of the sun within one month, or at two successive moons, and an eclipse of the moon at the full moon which intervenes between the two eclipses of the sun.

Sunday School Picnic.

On Tuesday afternoon one hundred people assembled at McLean's Springs to enjoy a most delightful outing given by the Sunday school of the Limesdale M. E. church.

The afternoon was pleasantly spent in games by the children, the singing of songs and discussion of plans for the further development of their Sunday school and church being taken up. There are several earnest workers connected with this Sunday school who realize that the children may be saved to the church through the Sunday school and feel that the country church is not a thing of the past. The superintendent, Mr. Albert Shuey, with his co-workers have carried on a successful school all this summer and are obtaining splendid results. These faithful workers are helping greatly to solve one of the problems of the country church, namely keeping the young people interested in the church. Ice cream and cake were served and all departed feeling that a profitable afternoon had been spent.

MRS. ERNEST ROLLER SUBMITS TO OPERATION

Mrs. Ernest Roller underwent an minor operation in the Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis Wednesday afternoon. The operation, which was entirely successful, was performed by Dr. Pontzer, of Indianapolis, assisted by Dr. W. W. Tucker of this city. Reports this morning are that Mrs. Roller is doing well.

Freight Cars Go Into the Ditch.

A broken down bar on a northbound Monon freight train, in charge of Engineer Kiser and Conductor Whisend, caused a wreck at 1 o'clock Friday morning, about a mile south of Cloverdale, in which six cars went into the ditch. Luckily none of the trainmen were injured. Traffic was tied up for several hours, however.

The wrecked cars were loaded with pig iron, lumber and syrup. All six cars went into the ditch and were demolished. The tracks were torn up for quite a distance. A wrecking train was called from Lafayette, getting to the scene of the wreck at near 6 o'clock.

The midnight passenger trains were detoured in order to get around the wreck. The southbound train was taken back to Limesdale and then to Indianapolis. From Indianapolis it was taken to Gosport. The northbound train was detoured by the same route.

The wreckage was not cleared up and the tracks rebuilt until late this afternoon.

PREACHER GETS TOUCHED AT STILESVILLE REVIVAL

"Better take our grips inside!" asked Rev. Bruce Evans, an evangelist conducting a revival at the Baptist church in Stilesville Saturday evening, as he and Rev. J. E. Sherrill of this place drove up to the church just before services. "It's hardly worth while; they will be all right out here," responded the Rev. Sherrill, remembering that his grip contained only a "nightie" and a collar button.

Thus the grips were left in the buggy while the services were going on. When the ministers returned to the buggy it was found that Rev. Sherrill's grip had been emptied of its contents, while Rev. Evans' had completely disappeared. The latter immediately became excited. His grip contained $78, a gold watch and some valuable papers, among which were some insurance policies.

The ministers had planned to spend the night with friends in the country near Stilesville and they went to the church in a rig.

Possessing an abiding faith in mankind Rev. Evans did not worry over his valuables after the first moment of indecision. Some one had evidently not been attending services regularly, or had back-slidden, and he made a clean get-away with the minister's valuables. At subsequent services the ministers mentioned the theft and hinted it would be greatly appreciated if the guilty one would return the papers, which were of no value to them, and the grip, but evidently the party was too busy spending the money to attend the revival. No trace of the grip or the papers has been found.—Danville Gazette.

MISS IVA SMITH, DEPAULWILL, BECOMES A BRIDE THURSDAY

The marriage of Mr. Fred Lockridge O'Hair, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. O'Hair, and Miss Iva Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McCheslin Smith of Evansville, occurred Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, 813 Adams avenue. The ceremony, which took place at 8 o'clock, was performed by the bride's father, Dr. George McClellan Smith.

The house was elaborately decorated with palms and pink and lavender asters. The bride came through aisles of white with ribbon to the altar of palms and asters where the service was pronounced. First came the bridesmaids, Miss Anna Johnston, Elizabeth Berryhill, then Miss Chadwick and Mrs. C. N. Crick. After them came the maid of honor and the best man, Miss Mabel O'Hair and Mr. A. R. Lambert. Then the groom, Vernice, Coble Smith, brother of the bride, gave the address of white matrimony. Then the bride and groom. As the wedding party advanced, Miss Adah McCoy played the wedding march from Lohengrin and during the ceremony Mrs. Ben S. Thompson sang "Devotions," by Schumann and "Sweet Genevieve."

The bride's gown was of white, bridal satin and duchess lace, with a veil of tulle and orange blossoms. The only jewelry wore was a pearl necklace the gift of the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of Hilles-of-the-valley, roses and orchids. Her going away gown was of tulle, beaded satin trimmed in burnt orange, with a tulle veil and hat to match. Miss Mabel O'Hair, the maid of honor, was gown in lavender crepe de meteor trimmed in point lace and carried pink asters; Miss Rebecca Chadwick, the bridesmaid, was gown in pink satin with pearl trimmings and carried lavender asters. Miss McCoy wore a pink charmese gown and Mrs. Thompson one of lavender charmese.

A reception was held after the ceremony. Among the out-of-town guests were Dr. and Mrs. David E. Johnston, of Moores Hill, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. O'Hair, Miss Pearl O'Hair, Mr. Robert O'Hair, all of Greencastle, Ind.; Mrs. George W. Shelton, of Danville, Ind.; Mrs. Rebecca Chadwick, of Shelbyville; Miss Adah McCoy, of Lake, Ind.; Mr. A. R. Lambert and Mr. C. W. Crick, of Anderson; Mr. John C. Emison, and Ewing Emison, of Vincennes.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lockridge O'Hair will be at home after October first in Greencastle, Ind.

The Veronica Club Entertains.

The Veronica Club entertained their husbands and friends in a royal manner Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Fred Thomas on Hanna street, with a playlet, in which the members of the club took the character parts.

The front and back parlors were converted into a small theatre, by means of a stage, and opera chairs. Several box seats were provided and were much in demand. Upon arrival, the guests were given tickets which admitted them to the theatre and were escorted to their seats by the ushers.

The play, which was entitled "Two of a Kind," began promptly at 8:30. Those taking part were: Mrs. Theodore Crawley, Mrs. R. M. Hazlett, Miss Nellie Gardner, Mrs. Kimber Gardner.

The play was given in excellent manner and was thoroughly enjoyed by those present.

After the play the guests were invited out to supper. The library and dining room where the supper was served was beautifully decorated in the club colors. Music was furnished during the evening by Miss Ethel Merryweather and Miss Marie Merryweather.

GREENCASLE CREAMERY IS TO BE LEASED

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Greencastle Creamery held in the city library on Friday it was decided to lease the creamery. A committee consisting of Mac Jones, O. L. Jones and Ed Bicknell were elected to act in conjunction with the directors in making the lease.

It is understood that several persons are desiring to lease the property and the intention of the stockholders is to close a lease at once, so

Pains All Over!

"You are welcome," says Mrs. Nora Guffey, of Broken Arrow, Okla., "to use my letter in any way you want to, if it will induce some suffering woman to try Cardui. I had pains all over, and suffered with an abscess. Three physicians failed to relieve me. Since taking Cardui, I am in better health than ever before, and that means much to me, because I suffered many years with womanly troubles, of different kinds. What other treatments I tried, helped me for a few days only."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

Don't wait, until you are taken down sick, before taking care of yourself. The small aches and pains, and other symptoms of womanly weakness and disease, always mean worse to follow, unless given quick treatment.

You would always keep Cardui handy, if you knew what quick and permanent relief it gives, where weakness and disease of the womanly system makes life seem hard to bear. Cardui has helped over a million women. Try it.

that the business can be taken over immediately. Within the next ten days if possible.

The directors and stockholders, after hearing a report of the condition of the business, deemed it impracticable to continue operating the plant under the present plan.

Probably fifty of the stockholders were present when the meeting was called to order by president Earl Lane. The first business of the meeting was a report of the secretary, R. A. Ogg. Mr. Ogg gave a lengthy report beginning at the time the stockholders took over the plant. He went into detail, showing what had been done and how the moneys had been spent. He brought out the fact that the future of the creamery depended solely upon the management.

It was pointed out that with some business man at the head of the business there is no doubt but that it will be a money maker. But with conditions as they are the plant can hardly succeed.

Mr. Ogg showed that to date the Creamery Association owes $1645.48 and has only $247.36 in money. As the creamery had approximately $200 as a working capital, the loss to date is about $2,000.

He suggested that one of three things be done: Lease the plant, sell the plant or assess the stockholders so that moneys to continue the business might be secured. The stockholders were unanimous in adopting the report. They believe that the officers and board of directors have given their best services to the business and that the loss was in no way due to neglect on their part.

Abner Miller Reunion.

The eighth annual reunion of the pupils and friends of Abner Miller was held in Hope grove southwest of Coatesville, on Saturday, August 30, 1913. This is an occasion that is looked forward to with much interest and pleasure and the reunion of 1913 fulfilled all expectations. The organization was perfected by Miss Martha Ridpath, who still retains the office of president. Mr. Miller is one of the most remarkable men that ever lived in this section. He passed his 55th birthday on February 19th last. He taught school for over thirty years and his scholars are scattered throughout the nation. It has been thirty-two years since he taught his last school and of course the members of this organization are nearly all men and women past middle age. On this occasion over 300 were present. The forenoon was spent informally while the crowd was gathering and at noon all were invited to a sumptuous feast. A number of after-dinner talks of a reminiscent character were indulged in among those taking part being Mr. Alsbaugh, Charles Bunten, Dr. Ridpath, James Denny, Alva Lisby and Rev. Louis Smith. A program of songs, declamations and instrumental music was given by the young folks in the afternoon and proved very enjoyable.

Among those from a distance who are recalled as being present were: Mr. and Mrs. Sipple, of Clay City; Dr. Ridpath, Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Millard Figg, Mrs. Tilman Hunt, Miss Lizzie Vogt, Indianapolis; Miss Martha Ridpath, Greencastle; Mrs. Alsbaugh and daughter, Mrs. Ledbetter, James Denny, Rev. Louis Smith, Greencastle; Mrs. Effie Fetrow, Mrs. Alice Ransom, Indianapolis; Mrs. Emma Stunkard, Brazil; Mrs. Oliver

Terre Haute; Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Christy, Mrs. Elizabeth Pierson, Coatesville; Thomas Storn Pittsburg; J. Mendenhall, Mont Clair; Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, New Mayaville; Coatesville Herald.

TRIES TO CROSS COUNTRY IN 30 DAYS ON WAGON

Ten thousand dollars if he reaches New York in 30 days, is the story advanced by C. Haven Smith, who says he is a theatrical man from San Francisco. Smith, who is accompanied by his wife and R. F. Hilton, official observer, says he has a wagon made that he will make the trip from San Francisco to New York in thirty days, with only set of tires on his Locomobile touring car.

R. F. Hilton is accompanying him and Mrs. Smith as official observer to see that none of the conditions of the bet are broken. According to Smith, the conditions of the wagon are as follows: That he makes the trip in 30 days; uses only set of tires for the coast to coast trip; does all of the repair work himself.

When the party entered Denver, Colo., it was two days behind schedule. Accidents on the journey have proved serious to the traveler and when they passed along the National Road on their way east Thursday they were three and one-half days behind their schedule.

Typhoid Fever Rages in State.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 4.—The typhoid fever situation is the worst in many years, according to H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner, whose laboratory is swamped with samples of water from various communities that have been threatened with typhoid epidemics. The state is not immune from epidemic conditions in any part, according to Barnard. The sample of water sent to the commissioner's office are too numerous for immediate analysis.

Requests came to the laboratory for one hundred containers for water samples. Because of the recent influx of requests for the containers, which samples of water are returned for analysis, there was only one container at the state laboratories. Barnard sent out notice to all physicians of the state that the laboratories are flooded with water samples and that it will be impossible to return results of analysis with expediency.

September is the worst month of the year for the ravages of the disease, Barnard said. The shallow wells in all parts of the state are worse than ever before. Typhoid spreading rapidly from such sources, Barnard believes. Only deep wells incased in stone, seem fit for drinking purposes.

The Johnson house on Walnut street, formerly occupied by the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jaul Johnson. Mr. Johnson is a teacher in a high school.

Improvements are being made to the Phi Psi house on south College avenue. It is being painted and modeled for the beginning of school. Dr. and Mrs. C. C. North, the instructor in sociology in DePaul, have returned for the opening school from Lac Du Flambeau, where they have been spending the summer.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Barnaby and family have returned from Lake Maxinkuckee, where they have been spending the summer.

The schools of Jackson, Floyd, Monroe, Franklin and Clinton townships began Monday. Most of the remaining schools will open next Monday.

Samuel Hazelett has sold his late apples, approximately 12,000 bushels of W. Wetz, a representative of an Indianapolis commission firm. Mr. Hazelett's orchard is just east of town.

Although Greencastle got little rain Monday, heavy rains fell all around town. The rain was copious and the farmers who happened to be in the territory in which it rained are happy today.

Mrs. James Smith and baby came Monday from St. Louis Park, Minn., for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Nelson on west Washington street. Mrs. Smith was formerly Miss Nellie Nelson of this city.

Emory Wass will lecture at the Manhattan Christian church on Sunday, September 14. His subject will be "Of All the Pictures, Which Hang on Memories Wall."

Miss Ruby Jones has gone to Troy, Ind., where she will be at the head of the English and Latin departments of the high school.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state for the Walter Allen Drug Co., of this town. The directors are Mrs. E. E. Allen, R. F. Allen and C. D. Bell. The capital stock is $10,000.

Mrs. H. S. Werneke, who has returned from Chicago, where she went to attend the millinery openings, has returned home. With her came Mrs. H. P. Konsella, of Rhinelander, Wisconsin, a relative, who will visit here for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. James Springer, who have been here visiting friends and relatives for the past few days, have returned to their home in Indianapolis.

Suit for divorce has been filed in the Putnam Circuit court by Mary M. Frazier against Robert Frazier. Mrs. Frazier alleges cruel and inhuman treatment in her petition for a divorce. The couple were married March 13, 1905, and lived together until September 6, 1913. They have three children, the oldest of which is 8 years old. The suit was filed this afternoon. Last week Mrs. Frazier filed an affidavit in Squire Frank's court charging her husband with assault. Trial of this case comes up next week. The couple live in Greencastle.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear, there is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. No will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

M. C. Peck, formerly proprietor of the Pilot Shoe shop, met with a painful accident while working at the J. & Stone quarry. Mr. Peck was attempting to dump a small stone car when he slipped and fell heavily on the track. He was bruised so badly that he will be unable to work for a few days.

Mrs. Blanche Goodwine O'Hair is in Indianapolis at the English Hotel until after the State Fair. She will exhibit her wood carving and tapestries at the fair. Later Mrs. O'Hair goes to Muskogee, Oklahoma, where she will conduct a New York branch studio for "Interior Decoration and Wood-Carving."

Donald Connelly, son of Edward Connelly, a traction employee, who lives on east Washington street, while riding a bicycle, was slightly injured Wednesday afternoon when he was riding north on College avenue and failed to see the car approaching on Seminary until it was too late to avoid a collision. Luckily the youngster escaped with only a few cuts and bruises. The car was not going at a fast rate of speed or he would have been more seriously injured.

The eighteenth annual reunion of the Hillis family was held Tuesday at the home of Charles Watson, four miles northeast of Greencastle. On account of the warm weather the attendance was not as large as usual. There was only eighty in attendance, while last year there was near 150. A very enjoyable program was given by the young folks, who gave several readings and songs. John H. Hillis was elected president and Miss Lelia Boyd secretary-treasurer for the ensuing year. The out-of-town guests were Wm. Scobee and mother of Mt. Sterling, Ky., and Miss Edna Scobee, of Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Newgent, of Clinton township had as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moler. Mrs. Lizzie Newgent, Mrs. Lucinda Newgent, Mrs. John Newgent, Edward and Wallace Newgent of this county, John Newgent of Fairmount, Ill., and Isaac Newgent of Francisville, Ind. all of the surviving members of the family of Edward Newgent, Jr., were present except Mrs. Polly White and Mrs. Isaac Newgent. Other callers during the day were other members of the Newgent family, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McCabe and Thomas Holland. A very pleasant day was spent by all. One interesting thing about this gathering was the ages of nine of the older members which ranged from sixty-eight to eighty-two years, the average age being 74 years.

Elliott H. Jenne and family of Washington and Kruzann streets are preparing to remove to Greencastle next week to reside for a few years. Mr. Jenne, who has been employed in the office of the Brazil Sewer Pipe works, now goes on the road as a salesman. His two daughters, Misses Marcia and Winnifred will be students of DePauw university and the family believes that a Greencastle residence will be more convenient for them during their school years. Mr. and Mrs. Jenne and family have many friends here who will regret to see them leave Brazil.—Brazil News.

DOING THEIR DUTY.

Scores of Greencastle Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidney's duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak.

Backache and other kidney ills may follow.

Help the kidneys do their work. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy.

Greencastle people endorse their worth.

Mrs. Belle Hinkle, 609 Illinois St. Greencastle, Ind., says: "Several years ago I suffered from sharp twinges through my loins. I felt tired all the time and had spells of dizziness. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills, I used them and they brought me instant relief. My back is now strong and I feel better in every way."

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Hinkle had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 52c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

DePauw Starts Practice.

Coach Thomas Bogle, a former Michigan university football star, who was recently secured by the DePauw Athletic Board arrived from Ann Arbor Monday and announced official football practice Tuesday afternoon.

Captain "Dick" Grady also arrived Monday and stated that he is in the best of form for the beginning of football practice. "Lefty" Moore, Gardener, Rowan and Anderson have reported for first official practice. Several high school stars are expected to arrive before the end of the week. All indications lead the football enthusiasts to believe DePauw will have a winning team this year.

ATTACK RUBBISH ON FIRE PREVENTION DAY

The suggestion by the state fire marshal's department that Friday, Oct. 9, be observed as Fire Prevention Day has met with public approval and definite steps toward the day's observance are being planned.

One of the specific purposes of Fire Prevention Day is that of inducing citizens to clean up their premises.

Fire prevention will gain much from the general educational effect of the day's observance, but direct and specific benefits are being sought as well.

One of these has to do with "cleaning up." Cleanliness is one of the greatest and most efficient of fire preventatives. Waste material and rubbish that is permitted to accumulate in garrets, cellars, sheds, closets and alleys—as well as yards—is a constant menace to the safety of any community.

Every Community Menaced.

Since May 15, the fire marshal's department has received reports of 66 fires caused directly by rubbish. The loss from these fires was $11,863. This loss is not large when the chances for wholesale destruction are considered. Each and every one of the fires might have developed into a blaze that would have swept away the entire property of a community. Each of these 66 fires might easily have been prevented, and each represented a possible conflagration. In some communities business men are uniting in building small brick furnaces at a point convenient to all. In these furnaces the refuse and rubbish from each merchant's store is burned each day. Thus the refuse is not left in the store rooms at night, where it may become ignited, and the careless and dangerous burning of trash in the open air is avoided.

Fire chiefs and city officials have shown a disposition to encourage citizens to clean up on Fire Prevention Day, and in some cases, undoubtedly cities will arrange it so that their street cleaning equipment and employees can be used in hauling away trash that is collected and deposited in streets and alleys by householders on Fire Prevention Day.

Mrs. Pfeifferberger, age 80 years, who lives with her son, Charles Pfeifferberger, on Liberty street, opposite the first ward school building, tripped as she was walking through the house Tuesday and fell heavily to the floor, breaking her hip. Dr. W. W. Tucker was called and attended her injuries. Because of advanced age, the injury is quite serious.

THE McCULLOUGH FAMILY REUNION

MORE THAN 600 MEMBERS OF THE CLAN ATTEND THE FIFTH ANNUAL GATHERING AT THE EEL RIVER CHURCH IN CLAY COUNTY ON SUNDAY.

BASKET DINNER IS SPREAD

The McCullough family held their fifth annual reunion at the old Presbyterian Baptist church in Clay County Sunday. There were about 600 of the immediate relatives present. The founders of the family, William McCullough, and Lavina (Myers) McCullough, were born in 1796 and 1798, respectively, in Tennessee. They emigrated to Indiana in 1830. They raised a family of 16 children, all of whom raised large families, except one, who died before he married. West McCullough, the eldest child, raised a family of 16 children. This family now numbers 1,100 direct relatives from the original founders. Many of them live in Clay County and Putnam County.

They are most all farmers, but a number of their rank include professional men, some merchants and some tradesmen.

It is claimed for this family that it is the largest family in the state of Indiana, and one of the largest in the country. It has many of its members in various states of the Union, and it is with pride of the family that the younger generation are as strong and imparts as much vigor to their business as their fathers that cleared the primeval forests of Clay and Putnam Counties. It is said that there never was a family that held so tentatively together in their friendship as the ramifications of the McCullough family. It is their boast that in the great throng there is fewer men that don't pay their obligations than any other number of men that can be found.

The day was spent in reminiscence and a general good time, until noon when Everett McCullough, son of the Ashville merchant, Lewis McCullough, was introduced by the president, and delivered one of the best speeches that it has been the writer's privilege to listen to by a young man not yet entered into the active duties of life. He spoke calmly and forcefully and at the conclusion of his address was applauded by round after round from the assembled multitude.

Then came dinner. It was a magnificent sight to see 600 relatives with as many friends, sit down to dinner at the old church, attended by their ancestors. With uncovered heads they bowed to the shrine of their honored ancestry, and for the day all were Hardsell Baptists.

After dinner, at the call of the president, General S. Payne was introduced and spoke for about 30 minutes on the obligations of friendship. Mr. Payne made a splendid speech, which was well received by the assembled concourse.

Many of the old family relics were on hand. One had the tar bucket brought from Tennessee in 1830 some had the old deeds, others the old family Bible, and many other relics of bygone days.

One of the peculiarities of this meeting was that it was not entirely meeting on the banks of a foreign river to swell its waves with the homesick tear, but as brothers, the household gods were all the same. The old hearthstone was good enough for all. It may be said, in this family, union reigns.

The next annual meeting will be the fourth Sunday of August, 1914, at the old church, their ancestry loved so well.

While Dr. O. F. Overstreet, dentist, with offices on Vine street, was away from his office Monday noon, someone entered his office, and prying open the money drawer of his safe—the safe having been left unlocked—secured $85 in money. Dr. Overstreet did not discover his loss until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

J. W. Cooper, who occupies the Henry Crews property on west Walnut street, is shipping Mr. Crews' household furniture, which was stored in a room in the house, to Mr. Crews, at Greenville, Miss., where the latter will make his permanent home. Mr. and Mrs. Crews have been in Greenville most of the time for the past four years.

Osteopathy

Removes the cause and aids Nature to Health

It is not a cure-all, but it adds years to the life and life to the years of those who have tried other methods without success. If you are rheumatic, neuralgic, dyspeptic, paralytic, asthmatic, can't eat, can't sleep, all fagged out without exertion, fear nervous collapse, something is seriously clogging the wheels of life. The longer you try to work while the body machinery is out of adjustment, the more difficult it will be for the to adjust it and correctly fix what is wrong. That they know how to remove the cause by properly adjusting the structure of the body machinery is evidenced by twelve years of successful practice. Phone 226, Lady attendant. No charge for examination. PREVO BLOCK, GREENCASTLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Donner and Dr. and Mrs. O. F. Overstreet arrived Wednesday afternoon in Mr. Donner's automobile from Bay View, Mich., where they have been spending the summer. The party left Bay View Sunday and arrived in good time making the trip in a little less than four days. Outside of being stalled in the sand between Traverse City and Maristee, the trip was not marred by any mishap. They stopped in all the large cities on the route home. Although dusty and tired the whole party report a splendid trip home.

A tin tank containing some hydrogen gas, a boy and a match, caused a comedy, which might have resulted in a tragedy at the Robert Hanna shop, across the street from the fire department late Thursday afternoon. A can with a little of the gas in it was set out on the sidewalk, when Denver Huestis, a boy who is working for Mr. Hanna, touched a match to the opening in the can to see if the gas would light. Result—Bang!! No one hurt. The can has not yet been located.

Last Sunday being Walter Steele's birthday, his mother planned a party Saturday night, and invited several of his friends from Bainbridge. Refreshments of ice cream and cake and lemonade were served. Walter received many nice presents and was surprised some if he did get home before the rest did.—Roachdale News.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Johnson and son, who live near Putnamville, returned home Thursday from Warm Springs, Montana, where they had been visiting Mr. Johnson's brother, E. F. Johnson and family for the past four months. The latter formerly resided in Putnam county, having left here about 30 years ago. He is now farming in Montana.

Frank Detro, employed at the Barnaby Lumber yard, had a foot badly bruised Friday morning, while assisting in unloading logs on the mill yard. A log rolled onto his foot mashing it, but luckily no bones were broken. Detro, however, will be unable to work for several days.

One of Greencastle's citizens, badly in want of some intoxicating liquor and unable to secure any, determined to try some denatured alcohol. The result was that had not a physician been called in time the man probably would have killed himself, as he did not realize that the denatured stuff was not intended to drink.

Miss Kate Freeman has returned from her home in Sullivan for the opening of the city schools. Miss Freeman teaches Latin in the local high school.

One of the employees of a local bank caused quite a commotion late Thursday afternoon, when he, while handling a revolver which is kept on the bank counter, accidentally pulled the trigger. Luckily no one was in front of the revolver when it went off and the only damage was done to several pass-books, which were slightly damaged by the bullet.

It is seldom that the man who puts up a fish story has the goods to prove his assertions, but an exception to this rule was brought to our notice on Wednesday when Robert Britton produced a fine black bass which he had captured on Eel river; the specimen weighed four pounds and was the largest of this variety every displayed.—Roachdale News.

Knave and Fool Combined.

A correspondent writes: The late Mr. Frank H. Hill, sometimes editor of the Daily News, was a man of keen, incisive wit, and at least one of his motos is worth recording. A rather arrogant and self-sufficient political critic was enlightening a dinner party at which Mr. Hill was present on the state of political parties. "In a word," he concluded, "the Liberals, generally speaking are knaves, and the Conservatives fools." "I believe," quietly observed Hill, "that you, Mr. —, call yourself a Liberal-Conservative."—Westminster Gazette.

Guilford's Gold

Mr. Carter was very angry and when his daughter entered the room his wrath burst forth.

"So this is the way you obey me, is it?" he stormed. "I told you not to have anything more to do with that young Guilford, and the very next day you go against my wishes."

But Betty was not at all awed by this sudden storm. She was her father's own daughter, and her brown eyes looked into his steely blue ones, without flinching.

"I've promised to be Richard's wife, father," she said, quietly. "There's no harm in my going out walking with my fiancé, is there?"

Mr. Carter ignored the question. "You shan't marry him," he declared sternly. "He's a poor man, comparatively, and you know I've different plans for you."

"That's just it, father. You'd made up your mind that I shall marry David Thatcher, a man old enough to be my grandfather—almost—just because he is rich, and you want me to marry money."

"There's no need of our discussing why I want you to marry David Thatcher. We'll talk now about why I don't want you to marry that young rascal Guilford. You weren't cut out for a farmer's wife, Betty. I don't want you to have anything more to do with him, and I forbid it."

Betty said nothing, but the firm lines which settled around the pretty mouth told plainly that she did not intend to yield to her father's wishes. After a few moments she swept proudly from the room, and went upstairs to her own chamber.

"I really don't want to disobey him," she mused. "But I won't marry Mr. Thatcher. If father won't give his consent to my marrying Dick, why I'll marry him without it."

Suddenly her thoughts turned to what Richard Guilford had said that afternoon. "Don't worry, little girl," were his words at parting. "Just trust in me and everything will come out all right. Love always will find a way."

"What could he have meant?" she reflected.

Richard had also told her that he was going to the city that week, but he would not say what business was taking him there. Although she wondered a little, she trusted him fully, and was confident that she would hear all about it when he returned.

That evening David Thatcher called, and though Mr. Carter requested her to treat him with cordiality, she was barely civil, and her elder suitor was quite chilled by her indifference. The question he had been intending to ask her he decided to postpone until she was more gracious.

A stormy scene was enacted between Betty and her father after Mr. Thatcher's departure, but the girl remained obdurate, and her father had to acknowledge to himself that it was not an easy matter to make her yield. Although he was greatly vexed with her, he could not help admiring her spirit.

A week passed, and then mysterious proceedings began to take place on Richard Guilford's farm. Richard had now returned from the city and brought a stranger with him. Some inquisitive neighbor had reported that he had seen the two men, with queer looking instruments in their hands, walking from one end of the farm to the other. This piece of news spread rapidly, and the villagers began to be very curious. Even Mr. Carter when he heard of it could not help wondering what it meant. As for Betty she was as mystified as anyone, but she felt that Richard, at the very first opportunity would let her know.

The next evening Mr. Thatcher called. When he arrived Betty was in her own room, and when she went down stairs she found him and her father in a state of great excitement.

The latter held the evening paper in his hand, from which he had apparently been reading aloud. Betty looked at him with questioning eyes, and he passed her the paper without a word. Immediately her eye caught this headline: "Gold is Found on Young Farmer's Land in Freeville." Betty quickly scanned the details following this. Not that it was really necessary, for after the first moments of bewilderment, she had intuitively understood Richard's plan. She feigned astonishment at the news, and deceived both her father and Mr. Thatcher.

"I'm mighty glad to hear of this," declared Mr. Carter after a few moments. "According to the paper he'll be one of the richest men anywhere around. Well, he deserves it, if any person ever did. He's a lad after my own heart. And he's always been a first rate fellow. Ain't that so, Mr. Thatcher?"

Mr. Thatcher murmured an assent, but his manner was not very convincing. He had lost heart, for he knew that his rival now stood a good chance with the father.

Later when Mr. Carter and Betty were alone, he said: "I'll take back what I said a while ago, Betty. If you and Dick want to get married, why I shan't have another word to say against it. I'd rather you'd have him than any other man I know of."

But after all Betty did not marry money; for all the gold her husband brought her was a wealth of love and protection. — MRS. ANSTRUP A. NICHOLS.

ECZEMA SPREAD ALL OVER BODY

Began on Cheeks With Pimples. Itched Badly. Caused Disfigurement. Had to Put Mittens on Him. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Eczema Left Him.

Roxbury, Ohio. — "When my little boy was two weeks old he began breaking out on his cheeks. The eczema began just with pimples and they seemed to itch so badly he would scratch his face and cause a matter to run. Wherever that matter would touch, it would cause another pimple until it spread all over his body. It caused disfigurement while it lasted. He had fifteen places on one arm and his head had several. The deepest places on his cheeks were as large as a silver dollar on each side. He was so restless at night we had to put mittens on him to keep him from scratching them with his finger nails. He could not sleep because I put those mittens on which would not allow him to scratch and then he would wake up and be cross. If he got a little too warm at night it seemed to hurt badly.

"We tried a treatment and he didn't get any better. He had the eczema about three weeks when we began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bathed him at night with the Cuticura Soap and spread the Cuticura Ointment on and the eczema left." (Signed) Mrs. John White, Mar. 19, 1913.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexions, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little, that it is almost criminal not to use them. Sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book on the skin and scalp. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

W. S. Hall, of Alexandria, Ind., is here visiting Wes Sellers and family and Frank Roberts and family. Mr. Hall lived in Greencastle years ago. He removed from Greencastle to Bainbridge where he ran a store for several years. Twenty years ago he moved to Alexandria. He will spend the winter in Portland, Oregon, with his son, Cecil Hall.

Harold Long, machinist helper at the Monon shops, has resigned to enter Purdue university. Harold is one of the brightest youngsters that ever worked at the shops.—Lafayette Journal.—Harold Long formerly lived here and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Long.

Elmer Long and John Young, two Greencastle hunters, killed 18 squirrels Friday.

Obituary.

Rosamond Williams, daughter of Garrett and Charity Williams, was born on June 7, 1838, in Carroll county, Virginia. She was the youngest of a family of seven children, having five sisters and one brother. None of the family are now living, unless it is one sister living in Illinois, who has not been heard from for some time.

In 1850 she came with her parents to Putnam county, Indiana, making the journey in a wagon as was the custom in pioneer days.

On January 14 1858 she was united in marriage to Jefferson Clark Davis, who had also come to Indiana from Virginia. They were the parents of four children: Mrs. Manda McKee, Mrs. Sena Pritchard, Wiley Davis and Mrs. Emma Hall, who with the husband, survive her. There are nine living grand-children and four great grand-children, all living near enough to be with her in affliction, except one granddaughter, Mrs. Grace Davis, and little son Isaac, who live in Oklahoma. Two grand-daughters have gone on before while quite a number of nieces and nephews survive her.

There has been many happy reunions under the parental roof but never again will they be quite the same in the absence of the dear mother and grandmother. There is a sweet privilege of looking forward to the last great reunion in a better world where parting is no more and the weary are at rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis' married life has extended over a period of fifty years and in 1875 they moved to Monroe township, where she was constantly devoted to the family and home for thirty-five years, never wishing to give it up for all where her work would be lighted.

Mrs. Davis was loving sincere and kind of heart; one experienced trouble but that she would be truly a sympathizer and helper. Her neighbors have found her to be a true friend in time of need. Only a few short weeks have passed since she went to the home of a dear friend and neighbor where death and sorrow had entered and with loving words of sympathy did much to comfort the sad hearts in that home and so it has been in many other homes of the community.

She was converted when a girl and affiliated with the Baptist Church her membership being at the time of death with old Pisgah, where she enjoyed attending services whenever she could. In recent years of sickness and suffering she has often remarked that she was ready to go and would express a wish that she might be at rest.

On Aug. 21, 1913, she was stricken with paralysis and since that time could not talk or take nourishment, a fact which made the sorrow still greater for her loved ones, who were unable to relieve her suffering even by a drink of cold water.

She made known a desire for prayer at her bedside, a request gladly granted and though she could not speak, it was certainly a solace to her and a comfort to the family. At 8:25 on Sept. 1, 1913, her oft-breathed prayer was answered and she sank sweetly to rest at the age of 75 years, 2 months and 26 days. Though she is gone from us, yet the sweet memories that we may cherish and in so doing strive to emulate her sweet patient life.

Funeral services were conducted by Elder C. L. Airhart on Sept. 2, 1913, at Brick Chapel church, with interment in that cemetery.

Many beautiful floral offerings marked the respect and esteem for the deceased.

She was loving, kind and gentle. Loved by all who knew her best; But she now has gone and left us, Into perfect and eternal rest.
